

TURKEY CAN GAIN

Nothing By Engaging in Hostilities With the Bulgarians.

Turkey Will Be Forced to Submit to the Demands of the Powers and War Between That Country and Bulgaria Is no Longer Considered Imminent.

London, Sept. 19.—The Associated Press learns that war between Turkey and Bulgaria is not now regarded as imminent by the foreign offices here, and diplomatic centers in London. It is stated that under no circumstances will the powers permit Turkey to occupy Bulgarian territory, hence Turkey has nothing to gain by hostilities. Regarding the renewed rumors that a British fleet is going to Turkish waters the Associated Press is officially informed that as Balkan matters have been left in the hands of Russia, and Austria, such action is not contemplated by Great Britain, or, so far as known, by any other power. In the meantime the powers are daily exchanging communications with the view of determining on some possible means of restoring order in European Turkey, but so far they have devised no plan that would not be likely to increase, rather than diminish the gravity of the situation.

SPARKS WILL BE A DELEGATE.

Most Important Meeting in History of the Iron Workers Union.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 19.—H. F. Donnelly, of Albany, N. Y., a member of the executive board of International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, arrived here yesterday to attend the convention of the organization which will be held in this city beginning Monday. The convention will be attended by one hundred delegates representing iron unions in all the large cities of the United States and Canada. It will be one of the most important meetings in the history of the organization, said Mr. Donnelly today. "The New York delegation will arrive today or tomorrow. One of its members will be Samuel J. Parks, the New York business agent, who was recently sentenced to the penitentiary for alleged selling of his official power. Speaking of the Park's case, Mr. Donnelly said: "Parks was railroaded to the penitentiary by President Buchanan. It is a good man, and a strong worker. Our union would be far better off if it had more men like him. There are many business agents in New York, who are receiving money for their influence. The employers are to blame for this. If Parks did receive money he always looked after the interests of the union first."

DEALT IN STOCKS, THEN CAME SUICIDE.

Prominent Professor in Ohio State University Took His Life While Brooding Over Bad Investments in Mining.

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Prof. Fred Clarke, of the Ohio State University, committed suicide this morning, shooting himself in the forehead with a 32 calibre revolver. The shooting occurred about 7:45 a. m., but the body was not found for nearly an hour afterwards. Prof. Clarke was seen walking in a field in the rear of the university dormitory. The body was found lying at the foot of a tree, face downward, by a farm hand. Two bullets had been fired into his body. The face was badly bruised by the fall of the body, and there was powder marks on the face. It is supposed that the reason for the deed is to be found in the fact that unfortunate investments had been made in mining companies. Prof. Clarke leaves a widow and two small children. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan, and was an assistant professor in Leland Stanford University for two years. He was at the head of the department of economics and sociology at the Ohio State University. Burial will probably be made at Ann Arbor, Mich.

BALFOUR, MERE CHILD

His Inexperience in Business Put Him at the Mercy of Publishers.

Press Says, His Thoughtless Conduct Has Struck Rude Blow at Reverence for Traditions of English Public Life—Crisis Is Sole Topic.

London, Sept. 19.—The political crisis is still the sole topic of discussion in the United Kingdom. Premier Balfour is expected to have an audience with King Edward, at Balmoral, today. He will present the nominations for the cabinet vacancies. The exact nature of these appointments still continue a matter of various surmises. Regarding the eventual result of the upheaval, the Spectator forecasts that Mr. Balfour, when he appeals to the country, will be then succeeded by a Roseberry cabinet, which will not last long, attracts the greatest attention. A curious phase of the situation is the severe criticism regardless of party lines bestowed on Mr. Balfour's action in publishing his views and selling them in pamphlet form. The premier's keen sense of chivalry and honor is far too deeply appreciated by all parties to ever permit the suggestion that he purposely adopted the doubtful practice.

By Mr. Balfour's own admission, he is a "mere child in such matters," and his inexperience in business affairs now appears to have put him at the mercy of the publishers' of the pamphlet, who are coining money over the vital issue in national affairs. That M. Balfour will devote his portion of the proceeds to some charity is generally assumed, but it is regretted that he did not mention some such intention in the preface of the pamphlet. The "Outlook" which is a warm supporter of the premier, declares Mr. Balfour's indiscretion "strikes a rude blow at one's reverence for the traditions of English public life."

MEXICO HAS GOOD CHANCE.

Upon Her Action Depends Entirely the Entry of Chinese Laborers.

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—The Chronicle says there is a possibility that the China Commercial Steamship Co., may have to abandon its trans-Pacific service. The future of the line depends entirely upon the position taken by the Mexican government in regard to the entry of Chinese laborers into Mexico. The question of restricting the immigration of this class of labor is now before the state officials, and a decision is expected within the next few days. Should the Chinese passenger trade be stopped by Mexico, the limit it is said will have to be withdrawn from the run to this coast. Should this occur, it will mean a return to the old freight and steamer passenger rates by the company of this city, now in competition with the China line.

SUBURBAN TRAVELERS

Experience the Beauty of Country Life Because Power House Burned Down.

New York, Sept. 19.—Trolley lines around New Rochelle, on the Long Island shore, were completely tied up early this morning, by the burning of the Union Railway Co.'s power house. The loss will be about $40,000. Many persons living in New Rochelle and nearby places were on their way home from attending a theatrical performance, when the power was cut off, and some of them had to walk several miles to get to their homes.

The police did not dare allow people to come near the fire, for fear of an explosion of the boilers, and they experienced great difficulty in keeping the crowd back. There is no power to the lines from New Rochelle to Mt. Vernon, Larchmont and Glen Island, and it is said no power will be available until a new plant can be erected so that the commuters on the North shore apparently are in a position for becoming expert pedestrians.

Home Duties

The real heroines of every day are in our homes. Frequently, now, even, it is a mistaken and useless heroism.

Women seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. How much harder the daily tasks become when some derangement of the female organs makes every movement painful and keeps the nervous system unstrung? Irritability takes the place of happiness and amiability; and weakness and suffering takes the place of health and strength. As long as they can drag themselves around, women continue to work and perform their household duties. They have been led to believe that suffering is necessary because they are women. What a mistake!

The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will banish pain and restore happiness. Don't resort to strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy for women is always within reach.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

If there is anything in your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. No man will see your letter. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

For proof read the symptoms, suffering and cure recited in the following letters:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express to you the great benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My trouble was female weakness in its worst form and I was in a very bad condition. I could not perform my household duties, my back ached, I was extremely nervous, and I could not eat or sleep, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. My husband spent hundreds of dollars to get me well, and all the medicine that the doctors prescribed failed to do me any good; I resorted to an operation which the physician said was necessary to restore me to health, but I suffered more after it than I did before; I had hemorrhages of the womb that nothing could seem to stop.

"I noticed one of your advertisements and wrote you for advice. I received your reply and carefully followed all instructions. I immediately began to get stronger, and in two weeks was about the house. I took eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and continued following your advice, and to-day I am a well woman. Your remedies are help are a Godsend to suffering women, and I cannot find words to thank you for what you have done for me."—MRS. LOTTIE V. NAYLOR, 1325 N. J. Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

"I was suffering with falling of the womb and could hardly drag about, but after taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was completely cured. I am now a well woman and able to do all my work.

"I think your medicine one of the best remedies in the world."—MRS. J. M. LEE, 141 Lyndal St., Newcastle, Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done a great deal for me. I suffered so much from falling of the womb and all the troubles connected with it. I doctored for years with doctors and other remedies, but received only temporary relief.

"I began taking your medicine and had not taken it long before I was feeling better. My husband said that I should keep right on taking it as long as it gave me relief from my suffering, as I could not expect to be cured by one or two bottles. I did so and am now able to be on my feet and work hard all day, and go to bed and rest at night. Thanks to your Vegetable Compound I am certainly grateful for the relief it gave me. It is the mother's great friend. I would not be without it in my house for when I feel tired or out of sorts I take a few doses and feel all right.

"I would recommend your medicine to all tired mothers, and especially to those suffering as I was."—MRS. R. F. CHAMBERS, Bennet, Neb.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tonight, Andrew Robson in "Richard Carvel."

Monday, Thos. B. Alexander in "Near the Throne."

Thursday, Richard Buhler in "Paul Revere."

Saturday, "When the Bell Tolls."

Andrew Robson, the young romantic actor will be seen in a dramatization of Winston Churchill's popular novel "Richard Carvel," at Faurot opera house tonight. "Richard Carvel," is a stirring tale as a novel, and has lost none of the exciting incidents in E. E. Rose's successful dramatization.

It begins in Maryland at Carvel hall, at a period in American history which is decidedly interesting—that time just prior to the beginning of the war of the revolution. With a pretty love story, the play takes its auditor to London, showing the machinations of an ambitious father, and a wealthy Duke, foiled in their efforts to force beautiful Dorothy Manners into a loveless marriage. The hero of the story, Richard Carvel, is a hot-blooded American and there is ample opportunity given him for the display of his patriotism in defence of the colonists. From London, the scene shifts back to Maryland and of course there is a happy reunion.

Rose Coghlan, who has been specially engaged for the role of Penelope in Stephen Phillips' "Ulysses," tells the following story of a visit that her brother, Charles Coghlan, once paid to a friend who was one of the English nobility.

"One day at dinner," said Miss Coghlan, "my brother's host ordered a bottle of Cape to be set on the table, which, after magnifying its good qualities, and in particular its age, he sent around the table in glasses that scarcely held a thimbleful.

"Charles tasted the wine, and then remarked that it was very fine wine.

"Is it not curious?" said his lordship. "Perfectly so, indeed," responded my brother, "I do not remember to have seen anything so little of its age in my life before."

Local theatregoers are looking forward to the appearance in this city, next Monday evening, of Verbeck and Smiley's production of "Near the Throne," in which these enterprising young managers are this year starring Mr. Thomas B. Alexander, of "Prisoner of Zenda" fame. Mr. Alexander is supported by twenty metropolitan players including Miss Izetta Jewel, of the Castle Square theatre, Boston.

Corinne has received several tempting offers to go into vaudeville this season, but so far, she has declined them all, as she prefers to remain in legitimate work.

Tim Murphy will play an extended engagement through the south in "The Man From Missouri," not leaving that section until some time in February. He believes that he will make the hit of his career in the new play.

"Paul Revere" which plays at the Faurot opera house on next Thursday night, is already provided with an unusually large cast for a road show, but an unlooked for acquisition to the ranks occurred in an Ohio town last him with arrest as a traitor. Mr. Buhler replies in withering tones, and snapping his fingers in his adversaries' faces exclaims, "I defy you to speak with much emphasis on the word speak." The dog had crept unnoticed into a box and went to sleep under a chair. When the play had progressed as far as Mr. Buhler's defiant speech, his loud voice woke the sleeping cur, and as he exclaimed: "I defy you to speak" the sagacious canine believing that Mr. Buhler desired him to display his accomplishments, leaped from the box to the stage where Mr. Buhler stood with uplifted hand and raising himself to a sitting posture, Fido gave vent to a joyous bark. The curtain made a hurried descent, but the orchestra was drowned by the laughter of the audience. Needless to say that Fido has been banished from the premises of the theatre, and Mr. Buhler has sworn a vendetta against dogs in general.

"When the Bell Tolls," which will be produced at the Faurot opera house, next Saturday matinee and evening, Sept. 26, is a new departure in modern sensational melodramas. The locale of the play is Switzerland, and that romantic country lends itself particularly well to scenic effects. The plot is laid around the monastery of St. Bernard, with its picturesque monks and sagacious dogs, and a semi-religious halo adds much to the effectiveness of the romance. On the rise of the curtain, the theatre-goer finds himself in a new atmosphere hitherto untouched by the modern playwright, and the attention of the onlooker is held by the rapidly evolving situations that abound in the story.

"Way Down East" with its homely rural types, comes to the Faurot opera house, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 30th. The record of this rural play from a statistical standpoint, is truly remarkable. It is estimated that it has been seen by more than 5,000,000 men, women and children, and its gross takings have been in the neighborhood of $5,000,000. It has more metropolitan runs to its credit than any other play of the present time. The natural deduction is that it is a play that appeals to all classes, high and low, young and old, city folk and country folk.

It is not generally known, but it is none the less true that Willard Spencer, the author-composer is the originator of 'dark changes' on the stage during the action of a play. It was his idea to have the change made from the interior of General Knickerbocker's house to the illuminated Japanese garden in "The Little Tycoon" when it was first produced in Philadelphia. When Mr. Spencer first suggested this idea, the stage manager stood aghast, but we all know how universal it has now become in the big elaborate productions. Mr. Spencer carried his point and in his two later successes, "The Princess Bonnie" and "Miss Bob White" he has adhered to his original idea and the results are particularly striking and goes no little way towards making a harmonious whole so necessary to complete success.

No Doubt About It.

SEEMED TO BE SINKINGA CASE THAT WAS DANGEROUSLY NEAR EPILEPSY.*Nervous Trouble Followed a Shock and Continued in Spite of Medical Treatment for Two Years.

"A terrible shock, about four years ago," says Mrs. Charles E. Hart, of No. 230 north Pearl street, Joplin, Mo., "resulted in a nervous trouble from which I suffered for nearly two years. It was impossible for me to lie still and, when the nervous attacks came on, my stomach and heart were affected. The spells would come on without any apparent cause. I would feel as though I were sinking and my head would feel strange, as though I were on the point of losing consciousness. At these times I experienced a fluttering sensation in my stomach and afterward an empty feeling.

"Yes, I am cured now," continued Mrs. Hart, "my recovery came about in this way. A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I asked my doctor about them. He told me that I had better try them, they might help me. I took them and improvement was gradual but sure. In my case it was necessary to continue using the pills for about six weeks and I firmly believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine in the world for people afflicted as I was. I have recommended them to several persons and shall continue to do so."

The remedy that cured Mrs. Hart acts directly on the blood and nerves and in that is different from any other medicine. These pills have cured locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion and all forms of weakness either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold at all druggists, or will be sent direct from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents per box; six boxes for two dollars and a half. Send for free booklet of medical advice.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Sept. 19.—For Ohio:
Fair tonight and Sunday.

There were several boiler plate
etchings in the Republican-Gazette this morning, and out of them all, this one truth stood forth pre-eminent.
"August earnings of the railroads were 9.3 per cent greater than August
last year."

How many section men, how many brakemen, how many freight handlers,
how many clerks, how many conductors,
how many machinists, how many engineers employed by the railroads running through Lima, will hold up their right hand, and swear that their wages are 9.3 per cent higher last August than they were during the same month last year?

There appeared this morning in the local republican organ, an appeal to the voters of that party, which should awaken every democrat in the county, and state, to his bounden duty. The article is under the head "All Needed," meaning every republican vote.

Then it says: "The fact is the contest in Ohio will be earnest and determined from the start to finish. There will be no walk over about R."

As a broad writer, of the above, expects which are in artistic boiler plate,
was evidently thinking of five defeats
Hanna had received through Johnson
in Toledo.

This acknowledgement of possible defeat is for democrats, a call to arms that should not be ignored, but welcomed. Organization and the arousing of the voters of the party to the point where they will to a man, go to the polls, will bring victory. The party has honest, capable men as candidates, and a platform of principles which should and will command the admiration of those in all parties who believe in honest government, home rule, and equitable taxation.

SINGLE TAX BUG-A-BOO.

The voters of Ohio should not allow themselves to be deluded by the proposition that Tom Johnson's election means "single tax," or that the democratic platform advocates it. The republican press is attempting under the guise of protecting your interests to make you believe this. The charge that the endorsement by the democratic convention, of the constitutional amendment to classify property, means
"single tax," and makes it possible is absolutely false.

This constitutional amendment was considered in all its phases, discussed, and passed April 29th, 1902 by a republican legislature sitting in Columbus, Ohio, and if it means single tax,
that republican body knew it then,
and must father it. In its entirety the amendment reads as follows:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

Taxation.

Be it resolved by the general assembly of the state of Ohio: That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend section 2 of article XII, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

Article XII.

Sec. 2. The general assembly shall provide for the raising of revenue for all state and local purposes in such manner as it shall deem proper. The subjects of taxation for state and local purposes shall be classified, and the taxation shall be uniform on all subjects of the same class, and shall be just to the subject taxed. Only burying grounds, public schoolhouses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for any public purpose, and personal property to an amount not exceeding in value two hundred dollars for each individual, may, by general laws be exempted from taxation; and the value of all property so exempted shall from time to time, be ascertained and published, as may be directed by law.

At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment may have placed upon their ballots
the words, "Taxation amendment."
"Yes;" and those opposed to such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment," "No."

Sec. 3. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January, 1904.
W. S. MCKINNON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

CARL L. NIPPERT,

President of the Senate.
Adopted April 29, 1902.
United States of America, Ohio,
Office of the Secretary of State.
I, Lewis C. Laylin, secretary of state of the state of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a joint resolution adopted by the general assembly of the state of Ohio on the 29th day of April, A. D., 1902, taken from the original rolls now on file in this office.

In testimony whereof, I have here-unto subscribed my name, and affixed
my official seal, at Columbus, the 27th day of January, A. D., 1903.
LEWIS C. LAYLIN,
Secretary of State.

What does it say?
Does it say all tax shall be assessed against land?

"Does it not say that 'the subjects (plural) of taxation for state and local purposes shall be classified, and the taxation shall be uniform on all subjects of the same class'?"

Does it not say that all personal property, save and except two hundred dollars for each individual shall be taxed?

Is land subject?

Is personal property land?

If after mature deliberation you decide that either is the other, or the other is, for Heaven's sake vote the republican ticket, and thereby go on record as believing that the falsehoods
the republican press has already injected into this campaign are truths.

LANDED HIM
AFTER A CHASE

Lasting Since Jett Trial Was Cal-
ed. It Is Claimed He Saw Jett Shoot.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 19.—Sheriff W. McChord, of Clark county, who arrested Curtis Jett for the Marcum murder, today arrested Chas. Green, the chief witness in the Cockrell case at Cynthiana, at the home of his father-in-law, Wheeler Gentry, five miles from Lexington. Green is said to have seen Jett fire the fatal shot.
He has been fleeing from the officers ever since the trial was called. He told his wife he was going to Canada,
to keep from being assassinated by Jett's friends. When McChord called,
Gentry said Green was not there. Mc-Chord insisted on searching the premises and Gentry admitted him. When McChord drove up to the place, he was standing at the window, with a revolver, but he did not shoot. Green was taken to Cynthiana today.

GREEN

Testified That He Saw Jett Shooting
From Window.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 19.—In the trial of Curtis Jett for the alleged assassination of James Cockrell, at Jackson, Ky., the commonwealth today introduced W. M. Cope and James Blanton, who corroborated as to Jett being in front of the court house immediately after the shooting, and as to the shot coming from the court house. The feature was the testimony of Chas. Green, the witness who escaped, and said he was afraid of being killed if he testified. Green was brought here under arrest from Lexington, Ky. He testified that he was about ten feet from Cockrell when the shooting commenced. He and Cockrell both ran. He saw the shots coming in two volleys from the court house window, and saw Curtis Jett bring from the court house at Cockrell.

DEPLORABLE

Accident Caused Death of an Infant.

Child Pulled a Can of Sealing Wax
Off the Stove and Died Two Hours Later.

A sad accident occurred yesterday
at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H.
Brenneman, one-half mile west of Cairo, resulting in the death of their two-year-old child. Mrs. Brenneman was canning fruit and left a can of sealing wax on the stove. The baby pulled it off and the molten wax struck it full in the face, running down
the breast as far as the waist.

The child suffered terribly and the attending physician was unable to save the life of the little one, who died two hours later. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

HEALTHY WOMEN

Praise Pe-ru-na as a Cure and Preventative of Catarrhal Disorders.

Miss Elizabeth Ueber, No. 67 Bassett
street, Albany, N. Y., writes:
"I have always dreaded the fall and winter because of my extreme habitual cold, when catarrhal trouble would quickly develop through my entire system which it would take weeks to drive away. I am thankful to say that since I have taken Peruna, I do not have any reason to dread this any more. Last fall when I suffered with my old trouble I took Peruna and in nine days was completely cured and since that time, if I have been at all exposed to the damp, wet or cold weather, I take a dose or two of Peruna and it throws out any hint of sickness from my system. I gladly indorse it."—Miss Elizabeth Ueber.

Mrs. Wm. Dewey, Saranac Lake, N.
Y., is second cousin of Admiral Dewey.
In a recent letter she says:

"Peruna is the most valuable of any remedy that I have ever used for coughs, colds, etc. I cheerfully recommend it as a certain cure if used according to directions."—Mrs. Wm.
Dewey.

Miss Rosa Gerbing, a popular
society woman of Crown Point, Ind.,
writes:

"Last winter I took a long drive
in the country, and being too thingy clad I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Peruna for colds and catarrh and I bought a bottle to try.
I am pleased that I did for it brought speedy relief. It only took two bottles and I consider this money well spent."

"You have a firm friend in me,
and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have purchased several bottles to give to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."—Miss Rosa Gerbing.

To neglect a cold is to invite chronic catarrh. As soon as anyone discovers the first symptoms of catching cold he should at once begin the use of Peruna,
according to directions on the bottle,
and the cold is sure to pass away without leaving any bad effects.

Unless this is done the cold is almost sure to end in the second stage of catarrh which is making so many lives miserable. If Peruna was taken every time one has a cold or cough chronic catarrh would be practically an unknown disease.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

WIRE

Had Strayed From Its Place

In Red Devil

And There Was Hustling for Plow Horses

To Get Mayor Tom to His Meeting at Newcomers-town on Time.

Good, Sensible Republican Farmer However, Cheered the Gloom by Telling Johnson He Intended to Support Him.

Coshocton, Sept. 18.—(Special correspondence)—At 11 o'clock in the morning the "Red Devil" was standing on a road in the beautiful Tuscarawas valley four miles out of New Philadelphia. Mayor Tom was on one side his head bent down into the oil tank looking for a wire that had strayed; the chauffeur was tinkering with the "clutches" on the other side and on a nearby mound sat two disconsolate newspaper men munching apples and footling up their expense accounts. The situation had not changed in 30 minutes. "Looks like a walk," murmured one of the scribes. "Me for a farmer's trusty plow horse" replied the other. "Plague take the confounded thing!" exclaimed Mayor Tom. "Wonder what in the deuce is the matter with her. Here, Ringle, let's see if it's in the coil box." So once more the mayor and the chauffeur began the work of taking the machinery apart. Down the road was an old farmer. "The fourteen miles from Schneck—well, I'll be dined, breaking off his song when his old horse suddenly came to a standstill with its nose against the back of the machine. "What yer got in front there and why don't yer go ahead or git out of the road?" he cried. "Come around and see what we got and we can't get out of the road," answered the mayor. Grumblingly the old man pulled his horse off into the ditch and then the scowl on his face gave way to a broad and pleased smile. "Why, that's the 'red devil' and your Mayor Tom," he exclaimed.

"That's what some folks call me." "Knew yer from yer picture the moment I saw ye but say, you don't look much like them cartoons in the Cleveland Leader either. Where's that curl?" The mayor laughed and took off his hat. "That Cleveland Leader is an awful liar some folks say and I guess that's about right after all—you 'aint got no curl all twisted up on your head. But what pears to ail the 'red devil'?"

"Sparkers out of order," answered the mayor. "We can't get a spark to ignite the gasoline."

"Is that all?"

"Yes."

"Aint yer got any matches?"

The mayor gravely explained that the "red devil" was very particular and would only be satisfied with an electric spark.

"Well, Mayor Tom, I hope yer finds the spark and yer going to git one republican vote that I know of this fall—git up there Billy."

"Much obliged," called the mayor as he again resumed his labors on the cantankerous coil box. Another hour passed and still the "red devil" stubbornly resisted all efforts to make her move. Meanwhile, through the telephone wires overhead were flashing anxious questions and answers between New Philadelphia and Newcomers-town. At the latter place a speech had been billed for noon and the landlord of the hotel was preparing a magnificent spread for the Johnson party.

"It's no use," finally exclaimed the candidate for governor. "Cover her up with the big apron and we'll go and hunt a farmer to drive us back to New Philadelphia." And thus the "red devil" was left in the middle of the road in charge of a little boy, to whom the mayor gave a dollar to watch over it until a man could be sent out with a team to haul it back. One o'clock saw the party that had satiated away so merrily a few hours before, coming slowly back to town distributed between two farmer rigs. Here they caught an electric car for Canal Dover from which place they took a train for Newcomers-town, arriving there about 3:30 o'clock. A crowd that packed the town hall even to the balcony, heard the mayor talk for about forty minutes. When he left for Coshocton several hundred people followed him to the depot.

Though the weather was cool, almost to the degree of discomfort the people turned out in such numbers that the big tent was filled to the walls twenty minutes before the mayor and the local speakers arrived. It was probably the largest political gathering ever held here, hundreds of people being unable to get into the auditorium. Mr. Johnson was accorded a veritable ovation when he appeared. He talked for over an hour, the absence of John H. Clark, candidate for senator, placing on him the duty of making not only his own little talk, but the big speech of the night. He spoke at some length on two-cent-a-mile railroad fare, explaining the immense profits made by the railroads, and the fact that men who have $30 to invest can ride for two cents a mile, while those who only have 30 cents to invest must pay three cents a mile.

"Whether I am elected governor or not makes no difference," said Mayor Johnson, "but whether a legislature is elected that will represent the people of the state and not the privileged interests and monopolies, makes a big difference. In this fight the democratic party, in my opinion is on the side of the people and the republican party is on the side of the privileged classes. The people must decide and that they will decide right, when they have studied these questions and understood them, I have no doubt. I believe the people can be depended upon to protect their own interests when they see that those interested are in jeopardy."

COULDN'T

Find Any Candidates to Fill the Vacancies

And the Republican County Central Committee Passed the Matter Over to Next Meeting.

The republican county central committee held a meeting this morning and wrangled for some time over several matters upon which the Hall men and the anti-Hall men could not and never will agree. The question of finding candidates to fill the vacancies on the county ticket—occasioned by the refusal of Walter S. Mills to accept the nomination for sheriff and of Dr. L. F. Laudick to accept the nomination for coroner—came up but no one could recommend any one who would accept the nomination and the matter was deferred until the next meeting of the committee.

There was some talk about requesting A. L. Belch to withdraw from the ticket as candidate for representative on account of him being superintendent of the public schools at Vaughnsville, Putnam county and having been superintendent of the schools at Columbus Grove, Putnam county, for years, and not being known as a citizen of Allen county, but no action was taken by the committee because the members could not agree upon any question that involved the interests of either faction.

Owing to delay in shipment of sewing machines we were unable to exhibit at Allen county fair, but have just received a carload of the latest, popular White sewing machines which are on exhibition at our store 147 south Main street. Both 'phones No. 20, Hawisher Bros. 90-31.

Teegarden-Cardiff Wedding—Brief

A disgraceful fight occurred on east Second street, yesterday evening, caused by jealousy over a female, who seems to have been playing lover to both parties. Will Burden a hack driver had blood in his eye, when he met LeRoy Hirm, the young man recently implicated in the Lake Erie house robbery, with his best girl, and a scrap followed. Hirm was too much for the "caddy" and in the scuffle, one of Curtis' buddies was broken.

A Broken Leg.
Yesterday afternoon, while putting and riding on a car in the repair department, at the Lake Erie and West, J. G. Snyder, of 728 east Vine street, met with a very painful accident. He was standing on a ladder, when a boy pushed a truck against it, knocking it out from under him and precipitating him to the ground. Examination showed that besides being severely bruised, his left leg was broken just above the ankle. He was removed to his home in Jones and Williams' ambulance.

Grace M. E. Church.
Owing to the absence of Rev. W. J. Hagerman, who is attending conference at Findlay, Rev. Perry Metzgar will preach at 10 o'clock and at 7 in the evening. Revs. Maltbie and Fawcett will make brief talks on "Prayer," Sunday school at 9. Epworth League at 6:30, theme, "The Call of Jeremiah." Harry Thomas, leader. A cordial welcome to all services.

Badly Mashed Head.
Yesterday afternoon, Ed Keuthan, a car handler at the Lima Locomotive Works, went to the fair, and in his place, Frank Musselman, of 899 Holmes avenue, was substituted. In making a coupling about 4 o'clock, Frank's right hand was caught between the deadwoods and smashed to such an extent that the forefinger and thumb may have to be amputated.

Main Street Presbyterian Church.
Morning worship will be conducted by the pastor, at 10:30. Subject of sermon, "Kadesh-barnea." In the evening, Rev. Jas. Garven, of South America will speak of his work as a missionary in that country. Sabbath school at 9:30; Christian Endeavor, 6:30; prayer service, Thursday evening at 7:30. The public invited to these services.

Jones' Home Sorrowed.
Friends will be sorry to learn that the infant, born to Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Jones, on south Main street, yesterday morning, is dead. The little one only lived about four hours.

Church of Christ.
The pastor, George W. Sims, will preach at 10:30 and 7:30. Sunday school at 9:15; Christian Endeavor at 6 o'clock; theme, "Why and How We Should Bear Witness for Christ." A welcome for all.

Head-on Collision.
Yesterday evening, two strangers bumped wheels on south Main street, in front of Meyers and Hallers' grocery, and as a result, one man is minus a bicycle. They were going in opposite directions, and instead of turning to the right as required by law, one man turned to the left. The latter has a very sore head and arm, to nurse for a few days.

"Unity of Catholicism."
Rev. Frederick Rupert, of St. John's church, will preach in German, on the above topic at 10 o'clock mass tomorrow morning. All who wish to hear a German sermon are invited to attend.

Motorman Married.
Yesterday evening at the home of pastor George W. Sims, occurred the wedding of Mr. John W. Teegarden and Miss Lucy Cardiff, of Atchison, Kansas. Miss Cardiff came to the city yesterday, by request, as Mr. Teegarden, a motorman with the Lima Electric Railway, could not leave. They will go to housekeeping in the Black block, where the groom had rooms prepared in advance.

Mrs. Molcher has removed her millinery establishment from east Vine street to 723 south Main street.

Distributed Happiness.
The Lake Erie and Western money wagon appeared on the south side and as a result pocket books are a little fatter, and things look different over on the south side.

Sinking Rapidly.
The life of C. B. McKinnon, of Madison avenue, who is a sufferer from Bright's disease, is swiftly ebbing away, and at time of going to press hope of his recovery had been abandoned.

Better Hide.
This is rather late for trees to come out in new spring dress, but this is what happened on the Williams lot this morning. Two plum trees forgot about the frost (we don't mean the street carnival) and came forth in full bloom.

Gone to Dayton.
Mrs. Harry Richardson is packing up their household effects on south Main street and will move to Dayton, where her husband has secured employment as a motorman on an inter-urban line.

Oscar Dixon, of east Second street, is on the sick list.

Alex. Jamison, who has been ill with typhoid fever and who also underwent an operation at the hospital a short time ago, is again able to be about.

We have tried all remedies we could hear of, together with prescriptions from local physicians, and until we finally got hold of your remedy, found no relief; but after taking your remedy for a few days only, we have results that are simply marvelous. LIFE

In the Very Shadow of Death.

Daring Fellow

Who Keeps Track Free
of Genus Hobo.

Pennsylvania Detective Who Is a Terror to All Desperate Characters.

He Has the Nerve to Do the Job
and No One Is Trying to Take It Away From Him.

Living in the shadow of death is Dennis Frawley, the noted Pennsylvania railroad detective, says a Trenton, N. J., letter to the New York Times. Armed men are constantly coming this way seeking his life, because the word has been passed along the line that "Frawley, the hobo catcher, must be put away." The cause of all this animosity is Frawley's activity in putting away dangerous characters from the Pennsylvania railroad for the past six years.

Frawley was commissioned a "railroad detective" by ex-Governor Voorhees, and his jurisdiction extends to the uttermost parts of the state, wherever a railroad is operated.

Frawley is a mild-mannered man, modest and unassuming, but is absolutely devoid of fear. He has had desperate encounters with the most lawless characters that drift up and down the Pennsylvania railroad, beating their way and getting food, clothing, and money by stealing. For the ill will these men bear Frawley, his life is sought, and hardly a week passes that an attempt is not made to kill him.

Only last week, Frawley was shot while attempting to arrest a negro named Henry White. The apparently charmed life that the man possesses seems to have saved him. The bullet passed through his left arm, struck a rib, and glanced downward, passed into his hip. The duel was a desperate one. The participants were only ten feet apart, and eleven shots were exchanged, the negro shooting to kill while Frawley aimed to maim. Finally a ball from Frawley's gun struck the negro in the leg and he ran. Frawley was seriously wounded, and his friends took him to a hospital, where the wound was dressed. The surgeons ordered the man to bed, but Frawley, refusing, dressed himself, and went out of the hospital and spent the whole night looking for the negro, whom he believed was too badly wounded to crawl far. Frawley did not find his assailant.

Walking along Chambers' street, two years ago Frawley saw a notorious tramp known as "King Hobo." The man was annoying a little girl. Frawley jumped to the rescue and the powerful hobo commenced to strangle him.

Frawley in falling with the hobo, managed to pull his revolver and the tramp went to the hospital with two bullet holes in his body. One night he escaped from his nurses, but the exposure caused his death after Frawley had recaptured him the next day.

Frawley nearly went to his grave a year ago when he had a desperate fight with a negro tramp known as the "Cuban Giant" near Elizabeth. The detective was cut in a dozen places, but he hung on to his man and landed him in jail. A week later he walked into a nest of hobos back of the Interstate fair grounds and was again badly cut, but he succeeded in bringing to justice two of his assailants.

Four thousand tramps have been arrested by Frawley since he has been doing police duty on the railroad, and many of them have been much sought after as notorious criminals. Two months ago, Frawley found three well-known postoffice thieves in a box car, and although the men put up plausible tales, Frawley took them in and they proved to be Charles Curtis, Wm. Levine and Samuel Macken, men whom the postal authorities have been after for robbing postoffices in Burlington and Ocean counties.

Sterling, the negro who afterwards confessed to killing Prof. Roy Wilson White, of Philadelphia, and was hanged for the crime, was caught by Frawley three years ago, after the man had successfully eluded the police for weeks. John McKinney, a professional hobo, has been arrested by Frawley fifty-two times, and says that he has been in America twenty years, and Frawley is the only man who has succeeded in making him work.

In addition to the salary which the railroad pays Frawley, he gets fifty cents for every arrest followed by conviction. As Frawley's daily haul is often over fifteen men, he is getting a good thing out of the job, but the danger is so great that no one is laying away nights' scheming for the job.

"People find a good deal of fault with me," said Frawley to a New York Times correspondent today. "They think that I arrest these men for the sake of the 50 cents, but that is not so. In the first place, I am employed by the railroad company to keep the line clear from trespassers, and I am trying to do my duty. I don't arrest every man whom I find stealing a ride. If I think he is a decent fellow and in hard luck, I let him go. If he wants work, I help him to get it. A few weeks ago, I found a man and his wife stealing a ride. The woman was masquerading in male attire. I had them locked up, but the judge dismissed them. The man deserted the woman, and I found a place for her to work. In a few days the man came back looking for his wife, and I got him a job. I don't like to arrest old men. They are generally unfortunate fellows who have seen better days, and are not ornery as a rule. But some of the young fellows who come over the line are as desperate a lot of fellows as the jailbirds I pick up now and then. Two weeks ago, I caught a fourteen-year-old boy who carried a loaded revolver. He was locked up, and while in jail, wrote a letter to a boy in Newark, telling him that I had arrested him. The friend wrote back: 'I'm sorry for you but you ought to have plugged the big brute before letting him take you in. Before the boy left the jail, he told one of the prisoners that he would come this way again looking for my hide.'

This work is not pleasant, but some one must do it. There is a living in it for me and I have got my nerve to do the job. I am not troubled with any one trying to get my job away from me. In the last two months I have had more trouble with negroes than ever before. They seem to be coming more independent every day, and are ready to fight whenever they see me coming. This class of tramps used to carry knives and razors, but nowadays they are armed with revolvers and they don't hesitate to draw them at the drop of the hat and to shoot as well. I am at a disadvantage in dealing with hobos because they all know me by sight or have heard me described, so when the trains pull in at the coal chutes just out of Trenton, the hobos are looking for me.

"It is my duty to go into the empty freight cars when all trains are at a standstill, and if a man is laying for my life if he hits me the first shot. If he fails in the first shot, I have as good a chance as he, as I have always thrown my lamp at the snouter. This means that the lamp will go out and leave us both in darkness. They may kill me some day, but I hope to give them a fight to the last."

SHORT

Illness of John H. Williams

Is Terminated

By Hand of the Angel of Death.

Passed Away at the Home of the Family on West North Street.

Funeral Service Will Be Held Here Monday and the Remains Will Be Taken to Kalida for Interment.

John H. Williams, proprietor of the Manhattan hotel, is dead. The end came at 6:30 o'clock last evening, and while it had been known for two or three days, that Mr. Williams' condition was very critical, none of his friends were prepared to receive the announcement of his death, and the news was a shock to all of them. He had been sick only a week, and all remembered him only as a picture of health and strength, and it was difficult to realize that death had overtaken him.

Mr. Williams was stricken with an attack of cramps of the stomach, on Thursday of last week, and the ailment seemed to have been precipitated by his having eaten a half dozen raw oysters that were ice cold and indigestible. Within a few minutes, after he had eaten the oysters, he was suffering terrible pain, and was taken to his home at 333 west North street. Physicians were called, and they attended him almost constantly, until the end, but the case became more complicated, and the patient grew steadily weaker, until the hand of death terminated his sufferings last evening.

Short funeral services will be held at the home of the bereaved family, on west North street, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, and the remains will be taken to Kalida, Putnam county, the home of Mrs. Williams' relatives, for burial. The funeral proper will be held from the M. E. church in Kalida.

Jack Williams was born in South Carolina, Sept. 7, 1863 and lived to the age of 40 years and 11 days. His parents died when he was about 9 years of age and after that time, he made his own way in the world, starting as a boot-black. He first came to Lima, 13 or 14 years ago, and opened a saloon in the building now occupied by George Kah, on south Main street. Later, he opened a place in the Finch block, on south Main street, and when the Bluffton oil field was being fully developed, he moved to Bluffton, and opened a saloon and restaurant in that place. He was quite successful in

LOOKS

Good to Get Back the Money

And the Board

Will Not Lose Everything in Sight.

A Regular Thursday Crowd Present Yesterday and a Bigger One Today.

Running Races Were the Attraction and the Finishes Were Close Enough to Keep the Results in Doubt.

A great crowd is present at the grounds today and the children are very much in evidence. It looks good for the fair board to recuperate after the discouraging first days, and the exhibitors are also making up for threatened losses. Two days of good weather have done wonders and the fair will not be the failure which was predicted after the rain and cold weather of Wednesday and Thursday.

YESTERDAY'S RACES
Were Sufficient to Demonstrate That Nothing is Certain.

The courage of the members of the fair board went up a notch yesterday, when the usual Thursday crowd found Friday to be just as convenient, and by two o'clock, there was a fine showing, both grand stand and ground demonstrating that the attendance was large enough to make up for a share of the losses.

The mud was fast disappearing, and left the track today in condition for harness races for the first time since the beginning of the week. The runners were the principal attraction yesterday, and three interesting events with close and exciting finishes were sufficient to give the crowd a run for their money.

In the five-eighths heat race, the talent lost rather heavily on Frank Kessinger, a horse whom few expected to see lose either a heat or the race, but Brother Fred did the work in straight heats. Enos, who was up on Kessinger, in the first drive, was called to the stand, and after being scored for what was believed to be an intentional hold up, Jockey Neal was given the mount, and ordered to show what Kessinger could do. He made an even poorer showing than Enos, finishing a poor third. The time of the two heats was 1:05 and 1:06.

The county run of half mile in heats was won by Ruth Parks, with Good-year up. Lady Lusk made a bid for it by beating Dominine, the favorite out in a nose to nose finish. The second heat was a whipping race between Smith Parks and Dominine, with a last's breadth in the former's favor, and then the two came back for the final struggle, which was the prettiest race of the day. Dominine looked like the winner for a short distance, but Ruth Parks blanketed him and then led to the wire with half a length to spare. The time was 53%; 53%; 52%.

Cris Cross was the favorite in the three-fourths mile dash, and several bets were made while the field was at the post, of 5 to 4 against the field. Jockey Neal did with Cris Cross what he failed to do with Kessinger, and led the field with room to spare, but Madeline picked him up in the home stretch, and the two fought it out with the bunch trailing a dozen lengths behind. Time 1:21.

Better Program Today.
Announcement was made that the track would be in condition for harness racing this afternoon, and as the program would prove lengthy, it was decided to start the ball to rolling at 12:30. Three harness races were scheduled, a 2:40 trot; 2:19 pace and 2:24 trot, in addition to three running races, three-quarter mile dash, the Ohio Derby, for one and a half mile, and the consolation, three-quarter mile run.
